Relyco Advises Testing of Security Systems Once Each Month

Palmetto, GA – February 8, 2012 – When security systems are installed or converted from another vendor, Relyco Security says all components are tested for proper operation. But for added assurance, they advise testing systems at least once a month to ensure continued communication with the Relyco Central Station.

Customers can easily test systems themselves by following these simple steps:

- Call the Relyco Security central station at 770-252-8117 or 888-227-0705 and let them know a system test is desired.
- Provide a pass code.
- Close all doors and windows with security sensors.
- Arm the system and let exit delay time expire (typically 60 seconds).
- Open a protected door, window, etc., preferably nothing with entry/exit delay.
- Once the siren begins sounding, wait at least 60 seconds before disarming the system.
- Call the central station to verify the alarm signal was received and that it was for the correct zone. If they did not receive a signal, ask them to notify the Relyco business office or simply call at 770-253-4053, Monday-Friday, 8:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m., to request service on your system.
